American Security Council Foundation Welcomes Carl Cramb to Board of Directors

The American Security Council Foundation (ASCF) is pleased to announce that Carl Cramb, a distinguished strategic leader and retired U.S. Navy Captain, has joined the ASCF Board of Directors.

Mr. Cramb brings more than four decades of experience in national security, defense, business development, and nonprofit leadership. A decorated U.S. Navy veteran and accomplished executive in the aerospace and defense industry, he has led major organizations, managed multibillion-dollar pipelines, and guided complex operations at the highest levels of government and industry.

“We are truly honored to welcome Carl Cramb to the ASCF Board,” said Steve Bond, Board Chairman. “We are extremely pleased to have someone of his caliber join our leadership team. Carl’s depth of experience, strategic judgment, and lifelong commitment to national security will be invaluable as we advance our mission.”

Mr. Cramb currently serves as President of Cramb Solutions LLC, where he provides management and business development services to firms pursuing U.S. Navy contracts.

In addition to his private-sector leadership, Mr. Cramb has an extensive record of nonprofit service, including serving as the current President of the Cape Canaveral Council of the Navy League of the United States, where he revitalized the organization, increased fundraising, expanded scholarship programs, and earned national recognition for organizational excellence.

Mr. Cramb’s military career spans 28 years of service in the United States Navy, including senior leadership roles such as Chief of Staff for Second Fleet, Deputy Director in the Office of Program and Process Appraisals reporting to the Secretary of the Navy, and Commanding Officer of the USS Reuben James.

He earned an MBA from Marymount University and a Bachelor of Science in Engineering from the U.S. Naval Academy. He maintains an active SECRET clearance and is widely respected for his expertise in defense planning, budgeting, and strategic leadership.
